

Budget Plan Agreement

Each budget payment is due by the 10th of every month starting in June and ending in May. The Payments are based on your projected fuel usage and calculated to cover the cost of fuel usage only. Any non-fuel charges such as service repairs or service contracts are billed at the prevailing rate and payable upon receipt. Budget payments cover only the fuel delivered to the customer's home address. Fuel delivered to any other location is considered a non-budget charge and is payable upon receipt of invoice.

Budget customers automatically receive a discount of .20 cents per gallon off the posted oil price. Price will vary based on market conditions.

If at any time the budget payments become in arrears of (2) payments, it will automatically void the Budget Payment Agreement. New payment terms will be at the discretion of Blue Flame Oil credit department.

Blue Flame Oil Co., Inc. reserves the right to adjust the monthly budget payment if the original calculation is too low or too high. The customer will be notified before any changes are made.

At the end of the twelve month period, any balances due must be paid by May 31st. Credit balances are automatically calculated into next season's budget, customer may request a refund of the credit balance. If a refund is taken, the budget payment for next season will be recalculated.
